Headline:
A bright start, becoming cloudier later with a few showers.

Today:
A bright morning but cloud will gradually approach from the north through the morning, bringing showery outbreaks of rain here later in the afternoon. Drier in the south. Feeling a little cooler than recently. Maximum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Tonight:
Areas of cloud continue to spread southwards through the evening, bringing further outbreaks of rain or showers, especially across higher ground. Driest to the south and east. Minimum temperature 8 deg C (46 deg F).

Tuesday:
A rather cloudy day with patchy outbreaks of light rain or drizzle. Some clear spells possible later in the day, especially toward the east. Breezier than Monday. Maximum temperature 15 deg C (59 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Mainly dry Wednesday and Thursday with some bright spells away from high ground where cloud and drizzle lingers. A band of cloud and rain moves south early Friday, clearer later.
